To activate the SIM card, the amount on the subscriber's account must be not less than the subscription fee for the first 2 weeks of using the tariff. After the activation, communication services are provided when the subscription fee is paid and the balance is positive.

In case of if the card is not activated, or there is no minimum amount on the balance, or the payment is not made in any other form within 240 days from the date of the Contract conclusion or SIM-card/USIM card purchase and if the new SIM card is not activated (or the money is not paid through other channels) before the expiration of 240 days from the moment of reaching the conditional amount on the Electronic account that is insufficient to pay for the tariffing unit of the service, the Agreement shall be deemed terminated at the request of the Subscriber, and the obligations of the Parties shall be terminated.

If the contract is terminated, the tariff is changed, the payment system is changed, if the number is blocked (at the request, or lost, due to lack of funds on the account, etc.), the operator reserves the right to recalculate and withhold from the Subscriber the cost of the package of services provided for the monthly fee, proportionally to services used for the current calendar month and/or the days of the billing period, during which the number of the Subscriber was blocked due to insufficiency of funds on the account to pay for the services. This condition does not apply to cases when the subscriber's number was blocked during the full billing period and to cases of blocking the number at the request of the subscriber.

If the Subscriber creates a significant load on the network, including using peer-to-peer protocols, the speed of the mobile internet cannot be guaranteed by the operator.

The above tariffs are valid when the subscriber is on the territory of the home region, unless other conditions are not specified directly by the terms of the tariff.
